Labels to guide you

The « Christmas Towns and Villages » label distinguishes towns and villages such as Colmar, Eguisheim, Kayserberg, Munster, Ribeauvillé and Riquewihr, which offer high-quality, large-scale events throughout the Advent season.

The «Christmas Towns and Villages» are designated with VVN in this brochure.

The «Rendez-vous de Noël» label distinguishes authentic, traditional events that punctuate the Advent festivities, such as the Advent calendar in Turckheim, the Nativity trail in Bergheim, the Silberwald Christmas trail in Stosswihr or the Gourmet Christmas under the porches in Gueborschwihr and many others!

The « Rendez-vous de Noël » are designated with RDV in this brochure.

The Christmas markets

5 Christmas markets in Colmar's historic heart

A city of Art and History, Colmar charms with its warm atmosphere. An exceptional heritage provides the backdrop for a magical Christmas. As night falls, the subtle interplay of lights adds a magical touch to a wealth of architecture dating from the Middle Ages to the 19th century.

Colmar Gourmet Market

At the foot of the Ferris Wheel, a 6th market full of flavors welcomes you in a warm atmosphere. Nine chefs will concoct divine dishes for you to enjoy on site or to take away. Culinary shows with renowned chefs will be held regularly in the center of the market.

The Elf Market in Turckheim

On the Place de l'Hôtel de Ville, a magical village built by elves awaits you! Turckheim is a charming little medieval town with a family atmosphere, where you can stroll between the decorated huts of the craftsmen, and taste and smell the regional specialities.

Full program

How to make your own bredala

Bredalas are traditional alsatian Christmas biscuits, which can be found in every Christmas market next to the manalas and the gingerbread biscuits. The first bredala recipes date back to the 14th century, in the north of Alsace. They flourished in the 19th century, when cookie cutters were created.

There are many variations of bredalas, but the traditional one remains the butterbredala.

Ingredients :

- 500g of all-purpose flour
- 300g of butter
- 250g of superfine sugar
- 2 whole eggs
- 1 bag of vanilla sugar
- 1/2 bag of baking powder
- 2 egg yolks

Method :

- First, break the eggs in a bowl and add the superfine sugar. Add the vanilla sugar and immediately whisk everything together.
- In a second bowl, handmix together the flour and the softened butter to get a sandy-looking batter.
- Add the egg-sugar mixture and the baking powder to the second bowl until it forms a consistent dough. Cover it with plastic wrap and put it in the refrigerator for an hour.
- Knead the dough and spread it out until getting a thickness of about 4 mm.
- Using a cookie cutter, cut the dough in various shapes and place them on a tray covered with parchment paper.
- Brush the biscuits with egg yolk to brown them, then put them in the oven at 180°C for 10 to 15 minutes.

You can personalize this recipe by adding jam, cinnamon, oranges, hazelnut... Everything that makes you think of Christmas !
